ESSENTIAL SITES FOR INVESTORS

www.forbes.com

Click here for Forbes Magazine content, plus breaking news, portfolio tracking and screening for stocks and funds. People Tracker e-mails keep you current on global decision-makers.

American Association of Individual Investors

www.aaii.com

Great investing community. Annual membership costs $53. You get two informative newsletters, plus a resource-rich site, including over 40 preset screens inspired by pros like Bill O'Neill and Warren Buffett.

BEST: Guru Screens featuring the investing styles of market sages.

ETF Connect

www.etfconnect.com

The flashy portal provides all you need to know on Exchange Traded Funds. Quick Facts provides the top-ten holdings, its annualized returns, NAV, links, pricing, charts and more.

BEST: Over 600 funds covered including closed-end munis.

BestCalls.com

www.bestcalls.com

BestCalls aggregates live broadcasts and recordings of earnings announcements, shareholder meetings and management interviews for more than 2,500 companies.

BEST: Sends an e-mail when a company in your portfolio has an upcoming call.

Factiva

www.factiva.com

Formerly Dow Jones Interactive. Fees starting at $69 get you the same powerful features, including market data, company reports and now Web sites, but with more publications, companies and languages.

BEST: Handy news clip service.

BondsOnline

www.bondsonline.com

Trade bonds and track all of the ones you own. You can also get real-time prices and research for Treasuries, zero-coupon, municipal, mortgage-backed and corporate.

BEST: Glossary of bond lingo.

Fidelity.com

www.fidelity.com

All the basics for stock and fund investing, plus useful extras like Lehman Brothers research and a multigoal financial planner. Also billpaying, check-writing, debit cards and retirement planning.

BEST: Fidelity Investor's Weekly — a personalized recap of the week's news.

Briefing.com

www.briefing.com

Up-to-the-minute news on what Wall Street is saying. Offers insightful analysis of individual companies. Three pricing packages: free, $10 and $25 per month.

BEST: Story Stocks looks at the day's big movers.

Financial Times

www.ft.com

The same high-caliber international news coverage found in the print version, including reports from the Middle East, Africa and the Americas.

BEST: Stories sortable by region.

Clearstation

http://clearstation.etrade.com

Technical analysis site that lets the stock-picking amateurs shine. See which members have the hottest portfolios and get free e-mail alerts when your favorite picker makes a change. Great source for stock ideas and education.

BEST: "Tag & Bag" stock ideas.

FundAlarm

www.fundalarm.com

A rarity on the Web, this site tells you when to sell a mutual fund based on its performance against benchmarks.

BEST: A mercilessly managed message board, which deletes irrelevant postings.

CNET Investor

www.cnetinvestor.com

Tech news leader CNET gives you the latest news from the NASDAQ, along with commentary, industry Q&As and market preview and wrap e-mails. Tech stock heavy bulletin boards are a click away.

BEST: Track CNET tech indices.

IDS Finance

www.idsfinance.com

For in-depth coverage of the Asian markets, it's hard to beat Philippines-based IDSFinance. The analysts' corner message boards can help with hard-to-find information on companies.

BEST: Interactive charts and filters.

Investopedia

www.investopedia.com

Over 3,500 searchable finance and investment terms and easy-to-follow tutorials.

BEST: Each term has two definitions: the textbook version and the cut-to-the-chase "Investopedia Says."

OptionsXpress

www.optionsxpress.com

Options brokerage that also teaches you the difference between a straddle and a butterfly. Automatically mimic the moves of advisers like Larry McMillan using Xecute, or rate potential trades with the Options Dragon. A graphing tool shows your potential profit.

BEST: Easy-to-use execution windows.

ISI Emerging Markets

www.securities.com

Aggregates news, financials and company data for over 55 emerging countries in a multi-language format. MyISI bookmarks everything from news clippings to search strings. Subscription fees start at $100.

BEST: Spreadsheet-friendly. Financial reports and economic data easily downloaded.

Prophet.Net

www.Prophet.Net

The best browser-based charts on the Internet. Its ChartStream software operates as a Java applet window and includes many customizable indicators.

BEST: Scan up to 30 charts per sector at a time with Chart Surfer.

J.P. Morgan's ADR.com

www.adr.com

Examine ADRs by region, company and industry or dig deeper into underlying stocks, foreign exchanges and institutional holdings.

BEST: Sophisticated charting: look at both the ADR and the underlying stock in myriad ways.

Reuters

www.investor.reuters.com

Company research reports from more than 700 banks, brokers and research outfits, priced from $3 to well into the hundreds. Some free trials from a few brokers, like U.S. Bancorp Piper Jaffray.

BEST: Offers a host of tools for doing your own research, including an excellent stock screener.

Marketocracy

www.marketocracy.com

Challenges you to manage your own mutual fund with $1 million in virtual money. Funds are evaluated quarterly and ultimately the best pickers get a chance to manage real money.

BEST: Check the M100 to find out what the hottest hands are buying.

RiskGrades

www.riskgrades.com

Check up on your asset allocation. Uses its own volatility algorithm to come up with risk rankings from 0 (for cash) to 10,000. Input your portfolio for grading and run what-if scenarios, which let you experiment to improve your risk/return and diversification profile.

BEST: Savvy analysis, all free.

Morningstar.com

www.morningstar.com

This veteran mutual fund research firm's site offers complete coverage of thousands of funds and more. An investment radar gives a breakdown of the fund market and a Portfolio X-Ray checks your holdings for unexpected risks. Detailed reports: $13/month.

BEST: Analyst commentary.

StockCharts.com

www.stockcharts.com

Outstanding charting tools. GalleryView gives you daily, weekly and point and figure charts. MarketCarpets offers heat maps of indices sectors and fund families. Can also see other members' favorite charts.

BEST: Tutorials on technical indicators, techniques and trading strategies.

MSN Money

<http://moneycentral.msn.com>

Comprehensive financial portal with insightful market commentary and a well-designed Stock Screener with more than 500 ways of searching the data. You can also get SEC filings.

BEST: Portfolio tracking tool syncs with your e-brokerage.

Value Investors Club

www.valueinvestorsclub.com

Exclusive forum of only 250 value investors. Applicants are judged by Columbia professor and hedge fund manager Joel Greenblatt. Members are required to post two picks per year. Each stock idea is rated by members. Guests can read 45-day-old posts.

BEST: Learn from other value investors.
